

please do not end the no-call list or change it in any way. I know how to find a store or deal on something if i need it. i dont need someone annoying me at my personel residents. why dont you come up with a list for people who do want to be bothered instead. It would be interesting to see the different number count. thank you